

Intern, Investment team - Oslo

Investment team - Oslo

Are you curious, eager to learn, and passionate about making a positive impact? Join Summa Equity as a full-time intern in 2027!

Summa is a thematic investment firm that sees global challenges as opportunities. We invest in and develop companies driving innovative solutions for a more sustainable future. We are looking for full-time interns to join our Oslo office for 6-12 months, starting in August 2027.

About Summa Equity

Founded in 2016, Summa Equity is an investment firm focused on the thematic areas of Circularity, Energy Transition, Sustainable Food, and Tech-Enabled Resilience. Summa's purpose is to invest to solve global challenges. Summa has raised close to EUR 4 billion and has made 35 platform investments across three funds to date. These investments target the critical challenges society must address, enabling the potential for long-term outperformance.

The team operates across Europe, with offices in Stockholm, Oslo and Munich. Partnerships are central to Summa's approach, as reflected in its status as a certified B Corporation, its membership in the PRI System Stewardship Advisory Committee and the GIIN Investors Council, and its collaboration with the Capitals Coalition.

To succeed in the role, you should have:

- Strong analytical and problem-solving skills
- Outstanding grades and motivation to build companies positively contributing to society
- Interest in learning, and you thrive working in an open and transparent environment
- Ongoing studies towards a university degree or have just completed your studies

Previous work experience from banking, management consulting or an investment firm is beneficial, but not required as we strive to build a team with diverse backgrounds. In all applicants, we look for a strong connection and motivation to stay long-term in Norway.

You will become an integral part of Summa's investment team and be involved in investment processes, including identification of investment opportunities, valuation, due diligence and other relevant topics. In addition, you will work with our existing portfolio companies.

As an intern you will be responsible for the following:

- Identify investment opportunities with high value creation potential across our themes
- Prepare valuation documents
- Implement industry and company analyses
- Work with corporate development in Summa Equity's existing portfolio companies

We welcome your application by August 23, 2026. We are only able to process applications that are complete; including your CV, motivational letter and university transcripts. We will be reviewing applications on an ongoing basis and are unable to accept applications over e-mail. For questions about the process or role, please contact erik.faye@summaequity.com
